A message from the owner May 2020

“Many of you have been asking how much longer until Delicious Memories opens. Well, I have some exciting updates!

The sign above the door will be going up very soon and I’m continually working hard to ensure a safe and sanitary environment. Supplies have been ordered and the health inspection is scheduled.

In compliance with North Carolina’s mandates to prevent the spread of Covid-19 your dining experience will look different, at least for awhile.

To my understanding, the extended stay-at-home order which applies to dine-in service at restaurants may expire soon. So, opening day may initially be with a skeleton crew limited to serving take-out. Workers will be encouraged to wear masks. I will do temperature checks on employees before shifts and have sanitizer stations available, if possible. The state’s plan outlines a gradual return to in-person dining, which will begin with reduced capacity during the second phase of re-opening.

I look forward to serving you in-house breakfast/lunch when restrictions are lifted. In the meantime, I’m eager to begin offering pre-ordered family style take-out meals which will remain available from 2pm-6pm. (Menu and ordering information will be posted soon.)”
